I have selected the two finest items in my Fall Bulb Book to send you as free gifts. One is the spectacular Sunset Lily you'll find illustrated on the front cover—and the other is a famous, new Shirley Temple Tulip—a Triumph—which is described and pictured in color on Page 9.

And here is how you get them—

With any $2.00 to $4.99 order—you may have your choice of one glorious Sunset Lily bulb—or two bulbs of the new Shirley Temple Tulip. (Either is worth 30c.)

With any $5.00 order and up—I will send you your choice of three Sunset Lily bulbs, or six giant Shirley Temple bulbs. (Either is worth 85c.)

Be sure to include the new Sunset Lily, or the Shirley Temple Tulip in your order, at my expense.

This catalog carries the most sweeping guarantee that anybody could possibly put on a Fall Planting Book. If you were to write it yourself, you couldn't make it any stronger!

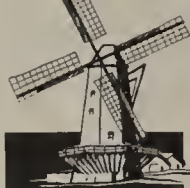

I'm not only assuring you that everything in this book is of high quality,

I guarantee everything in this book, Dutch Bulbs, Nursery-stock, Seeds, and all my special bargain offers to be true to name. If anything you purchase does not come up to every expectation, or does not arrive in good condition, I'll replace it free, if you notify me at once. Earl E. May.

Free MOLE REPELLENT

With every bulb order, I include FREE a generous quantity of mole repellent which we've found to be very successful.

Moles are about the only thing that can keep good bulbs from growing, and because I want to back up my guarantee of "a bloom in every bulb", I'm sending you a generous supply of a fine repellent (at my own expense) that will keep this destructive rodent from interfering with your bulbs.

Direct

PEONY-FLOWERED TULIPS

(DOUBLE EARLY)

These early exquisite jewels of the garden closely resemble large double peonies, or roses. Equally effective in beds, or in mass planting—and I specially recommend them for spots where the taller varieties aren't suitable. # SHIRLEY TEMPLE TULIP

WHEN first I saw this glorious, new giant-flowering Triumph Tulip, I searched my mind for a name worthy of its loveliness. Somehow, its soft rose-pink coloring reminded me of the blush on the cheek of a golden-haired little girl—and because I know this wonderful tulip will become America's Sweetheart—I named it after the dearest little girl in all America—Shirley Temple, with her special permission.

This is probably the finest tulip that grows in Holland, and you can get it only from Earl May. Be the first in your neighborhood to have this garden novelty. The supply is very limited and we reserve the right to discontinue the sale at any time without notice. So order your supply of Shirley Temple Tulips now.

Special $1<sup>25</sup> Dutch Dolls for 49¢

WITH EACH $2.50 BULB ORDER

These delightful dolls stand about 9 inches high, and are as sturdy as good workmanship and materials can make them. In the stores, they would sell for 2½ or 3 times my price. I'm sure that children and grown-ups alike will be delighted with them and that I'll gladly take the dolls back and refund the price to anyone who doesn't want to keep them.

MEET 'TINKA AND HANS!

They'd like to come and live with you

Our bulb people over in Holland sent me a pair of these dolls for my little niece this spring. At once, everybody around here fell in love with them. Somehow, they seemed more like real Dutch children than like dolls. They carried all the lveliness and charm of the tulip country and its picturesque people right into my office.

So many folks wanted to know if I could get more like them, that I told our imparters to see what they could do about it. Between us, we found a way to get more dolls, just like the originals. So here they are—ready to warm your heart, just as they've already warmed the hearts of everyone who has met them.

Tinka and Hans are beautifully made, with each little skirt and shirt and all the other parts of their apparel separately made, and neatly sewed, of good material. Mrs. May tells me that dolls of the same size and quality sell for $1.25 or $1.50 in the stores. BUT YOU CAN HAVE TINKA OR HANS (OR BOTH OF THEM) FOR A LOT LESS THAN THAT. Here's my plan:

Send me your order for $2.50 worth of bulbs and you can have either Tinka or Hans for only 49¢! Or order $4.00 worth of bulbs and you'll have the privilege of getting both dolls at 49¢ a piece, or 98¢ for both of them.

I promise you a real thrill when you get Tinka or Hans—and a still bigger thrill when you give them to any child!
